WE'RE FOR AMERICA! AMERICANS!

The gold reserve is now down to $53,762,678; and it's still crossing the sea to pay English workmen for making goods for Americans to wear, while American workmen and their wives and children want bread.

The shortage in Uncle Sam's Treasury so far for January is $7,542,895.05, an average daily deficit of $244,770. The deficit for the fiscal year is $22,957,002.10, and for the Cleveland Administration is $134,830,879.74.

The position of the Democrats in the Kentucky Senate is that if the Legislature will not elect a Democrat to succeed Blackburn it shall not elect anybody; and to a man up a tree it looks very much like nobody will be elected.

The Ashland News has changed from a morning to an afternoon paper, and The Sun has changed its name to The Ashland Republican. Both papers are daily, both Republican in politics, and both deserve a generous support.

There is more trouble over the movements of ex-President Harrison in the matrimonial line than in the Presidential. But BEN will capture both prizes—one a charming woman and the other a barren edifice of a nomination. Running on his individual merits he will capture happiness and on a high tariff platform he will lose the Presidency. Corwin Commonwealth.

The Treasury is said to be in good condition, because the available cash balance, exclusive of the gold reserve, is $120,000,000, of which $70,000,000 is in greenbacks. How did this money get into the available cash balance, when there has been a deficiency in the revenues for three years? Plain enough. Every greenback redeemed out of the gold reserve goes at once into the available cash balance, and the more gold is drawn from the reserve the more Mr. CARLISLE's available cash balance is swollen, and that is the reason he and Mr. CLEVELAND say that we do not need any more revenue. As long as we sell bonds to keep the reserve, and then take all the notes redeemed out of the reserve for spending money, we do not need more revenue; but that is not a good way of getting spending money in time of peace. If we had sufficient revenue we would not have to borrow to keep up the gold reserve.

RECENTLY The Pittsburgh Times, owned and edited by the Hon. CHRIS. L. MAGEE, published a sketch of the life and work of BENJAMIN HARRISON, which attracted much attention and set people to thinking about him for another term. In commenting editorially upon the sketch and the man, Mr. MAGEE said:

"He is recognized as one of the ablest men that ever sat in the Presidential chair. The top-heavy condition of public affairs and the ruinous state of business under the present Administration contrasted sharply with the prosperity that characterized the four years of HARRISON, and help materially to make conspicuous the wise and careful course that the predecessor of Mr. CLEVELAND pursued. A comparison of the four years of HARRISON and the two years of CLEVELAND is about all that need be said at any time on behalf of General HARRISON. If the Republican Convention shall pick BENJAMIN HARRISON as the nominee, the country, as well as the party, will accept the result with satisfaction, for the period during which he directed the destinies of the Nation was four of the brightest years in its history."

THERE'll be no election of a United States Senator this session, and there'll be no joint session of the General Assembly this year. The people will choose the next United States Senator by electing Legislators pledged to vote for the people's choice.—Frankfort Capital.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has voted to report a legislative affirmation of the Monroe Doctrine prepared by Senator DAVIS of Minnesota.

The text of the resolution is not been made public.

The maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine, as set forth in the resolution, is held to be vital to the welfare of this country and the American continent.

The resolution declares that it is the policy of the United States to oppose any aggression or otherwise, of any territory on the American continent by a foreign power is an unfriendly act, and such acquisition will not be permitted by the United States.

The resolution declares that in case boundary disputes on the American continent between foreign Governments and American Governments are decided by arbitration, agreement or purchase, or in any manner whatever, the United States shall be the sole judge as to whether the Monroe Doctrine has been violated in such arbitration or agreement.

The resolution is drawn with a view to covering every possible contingency that may arise.

HERE HE IS AGAIN!

Lexington Is Furnished With Gas Cheaper Than Daylight.

A company has been organized at Lexington with a capital stock of $80,000 to manufacture a gas machine which it is said will furnish gas at 35 cents per thousand.

Work will begin this week, and twenty men will be employed regularly.

Isn't it funny that these "big things" in gas making always break out in small cities?

Why don't some of the experts in large places "get onto" such bonanzas?

NEWS NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The ice gorge at Racine broke Saturday.

The Henry M. Stanley passed down yesterday afternoon.

The Goldenrod passed down Saturday, and will lay up at Cincinnati.

Saturday the river was clear of ice from Pomeroy as far down as this city.

At Murrayville there is not only a freeze over but a long deep gorge.

A slight rain fell all day Saturday in the upper Ohio and Kanawha valleys.

There will probably be a resumption of navigation among the smaller craft on the upper Ohio today.

A bill has been introduced in the Ohio Legislature similar to the one now in force in this state in regard to shanty-boats.

Pittsburgh coal operators are already making contracts with the gas companies and large manufacturing establishments along the river from Pittsburgh to New Orleans for their coal for early spring delivery, to be sent out as soon as the spring freshets begin.

A FORECAST CONDENSED NEWS

Of the Business in Congress the Coming Week.

The Urgency Deficiency Appropriation Bill in the House.

The Bill Making Appropriations for the Military Academy Will be Taken Up by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—In the house of representatives the programme of business for the coming week is about as follows:

The urgency deficiency bill will be reported by the committee on appropriations Monday, and it is expected that immediate consideration will be given it. Following that, the bill making appropriations for the military academy for the next fiscal year will be taken up. But little time will be occupied in considering these, and opportunities for action on bills by unanimous request will be numerous. It is expected that next Friday the committee on invalid pensions will invoke the rule providing for the night session on that day to begin the consideration of private pension bills. During the week the committee on ways and means will give several hearings. On Monday advocates of a bill to establish a sub-treasury at Savannah will be heard, and on Wednesday will be held the final hearing on the customs administrative act.

The report from the senate committee on foreign relations of the Monroe doctrine resolutions Monday will probably cause the subject to divide the time with the senate free coinage substitute to the house bond bill, which is still the unfinished business. The extreme position taken by the committee resolutions in one direction, and those of Mr. Sewell, of New Jersey, in the other, give the debate a wide range. Mr. Davis has been instructed by the committee to urge prompt action on the resolution, and while it can not supersede the financial question as the unfinished business, it will probably receive much discussion this week.

Mr. Sewell may address the senate Monday during the morning hour on his resolution, which declares that the president has gone too far in his message in enunciating the Monroe doctrine. The committee resolutions will doubtless be discussed by Messrs. Morgan, Sherman, Callom, Lodge, Frye, Davis and others in favor and antagonism, probably by Mr. Gray. It is believed that the result will be almost unanimous in favor of their adoption and the vote may be taken this week.

Mr. Taylor and Mr. Chandler have given notice that they will speak this week on the financial question, and Mr. White and Mr. Cochrane may also speak. Additional interest to the week's proceedings will be given should the finance committee report the tariff bill. This will be done, it is understood, without another meeting being held. The nature of the report will depend upon the position taken by Jones, of Nevada. Should he still insist upon increasing the duty on raw sugar an adverse report will be made; should he vote with the republicans, then the bill will be reported as it came from the house. As soon as Mr. Jones signifies how he desires to vote the bill will be reported. This may be Monday.

NO REPLY

To Secretary Olney's Inquiry Regarding the Red Cross Society Entering Army.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Secretary Olney stated Sunday night that he had received no reply as yet to his telegrams of inquiry to Minister Terrell at Constantinople, asking whether or not the Sultan had directed that the Red Cross officials should not enter his dominions for the purpose of distributing relief among the remaining army. In the meantime, Miss Clara Barton, president, is busily engaged in perfecting preparations for the voyage to Turkey, which she and her associates will undertake despite the report that they will not be permitted to discharge their charitable trust. She will leave Washington Tuesday and go to New York, falling from that port a day or two later.

Fatal Quarrel Over Cards.

DINGESS, W. Va., Jan. 20.—Trouble arose here Saturday night between a number of colored miners while playing cards. Several white miners were witnessing the game when the men quarreled and shooting was indulged in by a half dozen persons. Geo. A. Weatherholt and Sharon W. Fuller, both colored, are fatally shot, while Frank Stewart, white, is now lying in a dangerous condition. Stewart was not engaged in the fight, but was struck just below the heart with a stray ball. All those engaged are under arrest.

Prominent Baltimorean Dead.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 20.—Otto Sutro, one of Baltimore's best-known men and an educational director, died Sunday night from an affection of the bladder. He was born in Aix La Chapelle, Prussia, February 24, 1833. He married Mary Ann, daughter of Judge Alex. H. Handy, late chief justice of the supreme court of Missouri. Mr. Sutro's only brother is the mayor of San Francisco.
